

Sam Casey, Associate

Sam Casey, Associate, is an Actor, Director, and Creator originally from Atlanta, Georgia. He recently began his journey with Concrete Temple Theatre in 2017 as an intern puppeteer for Packrat at Dixon Place's Puppet Blok and Tada's Emerging Artist Festival. He is thrilled to continue to assist Concrete Temple Theatre in its mission to create compelling new theatre works.

Sam is currently pursuing his Bachelors Degree in Acting at Pace University. As a member of Pace's International Performance Ensemble he devised and performed Warning! Contents May Be Hot and Seven Floors at the Institute of the Arts Barcelona in Sitges, Spain. He premiered his original play Man in Chair at the Manhattan Repertory Theatre in January of 2017. He is also the Founder and Director of The Lionheart Clown Company in Norcross, Georgia; where he has facilitated the creation of five new clown pieces during the company's three-year existence.
